What's New

I am really delighted with the newest yarn from Mira at Baah Yarn. It is called Halo and is a combination of Alpaca, Mohair and Silk. I usually have a hard time with Alpaca as I find it rather itchy, but this is delightful. When I felt this yarn and then saw the new Floating pattern by Cally Monster I knew I had to make this shawl in Halo and New York. I used most of the New York and had some Halo left over. You could use a combination of Aspen with the Halo but you would probably need two skeins of the Aspen and then you would have enough leftover for a Sophie Scarf. Leftover problem solved. There are some other amazing samples in the store right now on loan from Baah. Stop in and feel them!

From Urth Yarn there are five new colors of Uneek yarn and they have just arrived and are fabulous. A great addition to an already wonderful palette.

There are now some wonderful crochet hook sets in the shop. Pretty colored hooks in lovely cases. There are also some HiyaHiya sets too. Tunisian Hooks to come shortly. There are also some really lovely Dumping Cases that hold yarn ball stitch markers.

Going, Going, Gone

I should probably have said Gone, Going, Going as we have put the remaining Shepherd Worsted, Hat Box and Satchel from Lorna's Laces and Mrs. Crosby into baskets and are putting them on a deep discount. Lorna's Laces & Mrs. Crosby closed a couple of years ago (hence the gone). Mention the newsletter when you are checking out with your treasures and you will receive a 40% discount on all Shepherd Worsted, Hat Box or Satchel. This discount is not available to the general public but for my newsletter readers only in February.

All our ceramic buttons will also be on sale at 40% off during February. Great additions to Felted Bags or for a closure on a shawl. You can crochet a button loop on the shawl to accommodate the pretty button.

Socks!

The February Advanced Sock Class is filling up. I used Amble for this lovely garter cabled sock. The class will be on the 10th of February at 3pm.

Azalea

I fell in love with the Azalea sweater last June when I saw the designer wearing it at H&H Chicago. I have chosen to make mine in Feliz as Elizabeth did but I am now thinking that it would be great in Milo also. I do plan to make a slightly longer sleeves rather than the ones shown in the pictures. So, select your colors, sign up and make this beauty with me. I think it is going to be an essential in my wardrobe for 2024.
