What's In & Expected

Our next shipment of Spree has arrived and I am sure that it won't last long. This is a delightful blend of wool and cotton and when it is knitted it reminds me of a watercolor by Monet. Really love this yarn.

Also from Berroco there are a couple of large boxes filled with Lanax Light which is a fabulous yarn for working Fairisle. I believe there are at least 30 colors to choose from. I can't wait to get this on my needles.

There was another Berroco box with 3 new shades of Millefiori Light and a new yarn for DITW called Dulce. This is a blend of Cotton, Nylon, Alpaca and Wool and it is really squishy and amazing to knit. Renew is another yarn that was in the box and it is a wonderful blend of Viscose, Wool, Nylon and Cashmere. Can't wait to get my needles into this yarn. I believe that I need a pair of fingerless gloves in this yarn.

Store Re-organization

Over the past week I have had the pleasure of moving yarn. I got to appreciate textures and colors that I hadn't noticed in a while. Come in and let me know what you think. Maybe you will find a new favorite too!

Kentucky Fiber Festival

I had a wonderful time at the Festival and met some amazing fleece artists and hand dyers. You will be seeing some of my purchases as I spin them up. There were some gorgeous animals there too but I wasn't allowed to bring any home.

A Basket For a Cause

Kelly Drum and I are excited to announce our support of the Alle-Kiski Area HOPE Center. HOPE offers supportive services, opportunities for healing, and community education to assist victims and end violence and abuse. Please join us in supporting this amazing organization by clicking on the link and getting your raffle ticket or tickets. I will be posting more information on our Ravelry Forum soon.

The basket (which is displayed in the shop) is ROWAN themed with Book #71, 20 balls of Cotton Cashmere, and one free group lesson!

Awakening Cowl

Are you ready to steek a cowl. This is a lovely cowl that is knitted in fingering weight yarn and has a main color with six supporting colors. The Bio Shetland and Lanax Light would be a perfect choice for this cowl.
